

Welcome to Dollars and Sense

The Inspiration..

A certain type of magic characterizes the process of raising funds for an organization. Asking insightful, focused questions will determine if you are ready to invite your donors to join you in an exciting new project, conduct a campaign or submit a specific project to a prospective donor. Answering those questions in light of your mission and values creates energy for involving others' time, talent and, ultimately, treasure in your work.

Board Members, Management, Staff, Volunteers and Donors know where they want to go and Dollars and Sense will provide additional resources in working with an organization to achieve mutual goals.
